

Nanci Grasso and Dance Workshop were featured on Inside Edition on February 13, 2026.

Feature Summary: Nanci Grasso and Dance Workshop were featured on Inside Edition in a segment entitled, “Unique Valentine’s Day Date Ideas.” During the minute-and-a-half-long segment, a variety of Valentine’s Day date ideas are explored, giving couples ideas for dates to reconnect with each other, including pottery classes, charcuterie workshops, and dance lessons. Nanci is featured in this segment, discussing why dance makes for a meaningful date idea for couples.

The segment opens by encouraging couples to “forget the typical Valentine’s Day,” highlighting unique date ideas for couples to celebrate the holiday beyond dinner and a movie. The final idea presented is to attend a dance class, which features Nanci and the Dance Workshop studio. During this portion of the segment, Nanci instructs several couples in the foxtrot, including Inside Edition correspondent Alison Hall. Nanci goes on to explain why dancing makes such a great date: “Dancing just feels so good. I mean, just a way to let loose. It’s really a good way to work on your relationship, physically, without words.” The segment concludes with advice from one of the participating couples from Dance Workshop, who suggest that stepping out of your comfort zone and trying something new like dancing is a great way to reconnect with your partner.

Outlet Summary: Inside Edition is an American tabloid television program that is distributed in first-run syndication by CBS Media Ventures. Having premiered on January 9, 1989, it is the longest-running syndicated newsmagazine program not strictly focused on hard news. It does include some, but the rest of each day's edition mainly features a mix of infotainment stories, entertainment news and gossip, scandals, true-crime stories, and lifestyle features.
